

BOYD ANNOUNCES STIMULUS FUNDS FOR SECURITY AT TALLAHASSEE REGIONAL AIRPORT

WASHINGTON, D.C. – U.S. Congressman Allen Boyd (D-North Florida) announced today that the Department of Homeland Security has allotted an estimated $15 million for aviation security at Tallahassee Regional Airport. This funding was included in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, which was recently signed into law with Congressman Boyd's support.

"Providing travelers with a thorough, efficient and professional screening process is vital towards ensuring the safety of our skies," said Congressman Boyd. "I am pleased that Tallahassee Regional Airport will receive stimulus funds to bolster its security protocol and maintain the safety of its passengers and cargo."

The funds allotted for Tallahassee Regional Airport were part of a $1 billion investment in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act for the Transportation Security Administration to meet aviation security requirements.
